DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stave (US 5,734,198) in view of Morifuji (US 6,175,157).
3. Regarding claim 11, Stave (e.g. fig. 1) shows a integrated circuit package comprising: a first lead frame 25; a second lead frame 40 laminated to a portion of a surface of the first lead frame (e.g. back) in order to create a multi layer lead frame; and a semiconductor 10 mounted to another portion of the surface of the first lead frame.

Stave does not show a plurality of contact balls mounted on the semiconductor die. However, Morifuji (e.g. 7) shows a semiconductor device 14 having a plurality of contact balls 14b' mounted on the semiconductor die. According to Morifuji, this type of embodiment increases the integration density while preventing the semiconductor chip from warping and from being damaged (col. 1/lls. 5-44).

FIG. 7

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include contact balls on the semiconductor die disclosed by Stave in accordance with Morifuji's invention to increase the integration density while preventing the semiconductor chip from warping and from being damaged.

4. Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stave (US 5,734,198) in view of Morifuji (US 6,175,157) in view Takekawa et al. (US 4,714,952).

5. Regarding claim 16, Stave in view of Morifuji shows most aspects of the instant invention except for the semiconductor die coated with at least one of titanium, tungsten, gold or a combination thereof for soldering. However, Takekawa discloses that a semiconductor die can be coated with gold to stabilize the potential to be produced at the lower surface of the substrate (col. 10/lls. 52-57). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to coat the bottom surface of the semiconductor die disclosed by Stave in view of Morifuji with gold in order to stabilize the potential to be produced at the lower surface of the substrate as taught by Takekawa.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 12 and 15 are allowed.
7. Claims 13 and 14 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

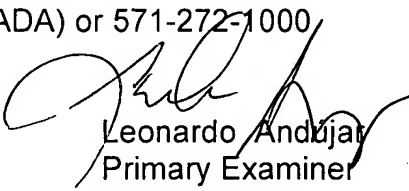

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11 and 16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
